PRESS RELEASE

Empowering the Role of Academia in Fighting Corruption

Last May, The AACI conducted an anti-corruption case contest at Qatar University, Doha - Qatar. This is the first of its kind in the Middle East and Africa. The AACI's Student Association engagement was exemplary. We will be offering the anti-corruption case contest in each semester at Qatar University. Moreover, we will expand its scope and the pool of participants.

On December 17, 2013, The AACI and Qatar University signed a general agreement to empower the role of academia in fighting corruption. The agreement calls for, among other things, conducting anti-corruption empirical researches and launching local innovative anti-corruption initiatives.

The AACI works with many universities worldwide. We negotiate similar cooperation with several premier and leading universities in the Middle East and Africa.

This is a limited brief about our engagement with Academia. Read more at <https://slate.adobe.com/a/aeAbD> (The AACI and Academia)
